

EVIL AMBITIONS OF MILITARY GERMANY MUST BE DESTROYED

Lansing Says Only Then Will World Be Safe For Democracy

FUTURE OF NATION AT STAKE

Not Fighting Other People's Battles, But Our Own; What Would Happen If Germany Were Victorious; Secretary of State Warns That the Teutons Would Seek to Take the United States; Fighting the Battle of Liberty.

Madison Barracks, July 29.—In a speech here tonight before 1,700 members of the Officers' Reserve corps Secretary of State Robert Lansing emphasizing the peril of German imperialism to the United States and to the world declared his belief that the German people would not pass off the yoke of autocracy until the "physical might of the united democracies of the world had destroyed forever the evil ambitions of the military rulers of Germany." That he added is the only way to restore the peace of the world. "Were every people on earth able to express their will there would be no wars of aggression, there would be no wars, and lasting peace would come to this earth. The only way that a people can express their will is through democratic institutions. Therefore when the world is made safe for democracy, when that great principle prevails, universal peace will be observed."

To Supplant Democracy. "No nation will benefit more than the United States when that time comes. But it has not come. A great people ruled in thought and word, as well as in deed by the most sinister government of modern times, is straining every nerve to supplant democracy by the autocracy which they have been taught to worship. When will the German people awaken to the truth? When will they rise in their might and cast off the yoke and become their own masters? I fear that it will not be until the physical might of the united democracies of the world has destroyed forever the evil ambitions of the military rulers of Germany and democracy become supreme."

The immediate cause of our war with Germany—the breaking of her promises as to indiscriminate submarine warfare—has a far deeper meaning he said "a meaning which has been growing more evident as the war has progressed and which needed but this act of perfidy to bring it home to all Americans. The evil character of the German people is laid bare before the world. We know now that the government is inspired with ambitions that menace human liberty and to gain its ends it does not hesitate to violate faith."

Why We Are at War. "It is this disclosure of the character of the Imperial German government which is the underlying cause of our entry in the war. We had doubted or at least many Americans had doubted. Doubt remains no longer. In the light of events we could read the past and see that for a quarter of a century the absorbing ambition of the military oligarchy which was the master of the German empire was for world dominion."

Asserting that "the future of the United States is at stake," Secretary Lansing said that "if any of you have the idea that we are fighting others' battles and not our own the sooner he gets away from that idea the better it will be for him, the better it will be for all of us."

"Imagine Germany victor in Europe because the United States remained neutral. Who then, think you, would be the next victim of those who are seeking to be masters of the whole earth? Would not this country with its enormous wealth arouse the enmity of an impoverished though triumphant Germany? Would not this democracy be the only obstacle between the autocratic rulers of Germany and their supreme ambition? Do you think that they would withhold their hand from so rich a prize?"

Alone or With Allies? "Let me then ask you would it be easier or wiser for this country to resist single handed a German empire flushed with victory than to unite with the brave enemies of that empire?"

Primarily then every man, who crosses the ocean to fight on foreign soil against the armies of the German emperor goes forth to fight for his country and for the preservation of those things for which our forefathers were willing to die. To those who thus give themselves we owe the same debt that we owe to those men who in the past fought on American soil in the cause of liberty. No, not the same debt, but a greater one. It calls for more patriotism, more self denial, and a truer vision to wage war on distant shores than to repel an invader than to defend one's home."

Answering those who he said might think it improbable that Germany

BREAK UP WELSH PEACE MEETING

Ex-Soldiers and Sailors Rush Hall—Violent Fighting in Building.
Swansea, Wales, July 29.—A meeting of over 200 delegates from all parts of Wales under the auspices of the soldiers' and workers' council, was broken up today before the proceedings started. The hall was rushed and violent fighting took place on the staircases and in the corridors. The attacking forces which included a number of discharged sailors and soldiers succeeded in taking charge of the hall and holding a patriotic meeting. Much damage was done to the hall. The delegates sought refuge in various corners of the hall.

CONFER WITH WILSON ON FOOD CONTROL BILL

CONFEREES REACH AN IMPASSE OVER SEVERAL PROVISIONS

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Conferees on the administration food control bill reached an impasse tonight after an all day conference and leaders decided to confer tomorrow with President Wilson on the few points remaining in dispute. The senate proposals to establish a congressional committee to supervise war expenditures and to create a board of three food administrators instead of one. On all other considerations the food conferees reached complete agreement. Final action on the bill is expected this week.

Representative Lever, heading the house conferees, and Senator Chamberlain, who handles the bill in the senate for the administration, will take up with President Wilson tomorrow the two remaining differences. The conferees will meet again tomorrow. Several of them are doubtful of the outcome, believing that a disagreement will result.

Numerous other changes have been agreed to in the bill, with most of the principal senate amendments accepted.

The prohibition section agreed to yesterday prohibits manufacture or importation of distilled beverages under the war and authorizes the president to limit the alcoholic contents of beer and wines. The Smoot amendment, directing federal purchase of all distilled spirits in bond, was stricken out.

The Prohibition clause as agreed to follows:

"That from and after thirty days from the date of the approval of this act no foods, fruits, food materials, or feeds, shall be used in the production of distilled spirits for beverage purposes; provided that under such rules, regulations, and bonds, as the president may prescribe such materials may be used in the production of distilled spirits exclusively for other than beverage purposes or for the fortification of pure sweet wines as defined by the revenue act of September 8, 1916."

"Nor shall there be imported into the United States any distilled spirits."

"Whenever the President shall find that limitation, regulation or prohibition of the use of foods, fruits, food materials, or feeds in the production of malt and vinous liquors for beverage purposes or that the reduction of alcoholic contents of any such malt or vinous liquor is essential in order to assure continuous supply of food or that the national security and defense will be served thereby, he is authorized from time to time to prescribe and give public notice of the extent of the limitation, regulation, prohibition or reduction so necessitated."

"Whenever such notice shall be given and remain unrevoked no person shall prescribe in such notice use of foods, fruits, food materials or feeds or import any such liquors except under license issued by the president and in compliance with rules and regulations promulgated by him."

"Provided further that nothing in this section shall be construed to authorize manufacturing of malt or vinous liquors in any state or territory, where such production is prohibited."

The Senate's provision fixing a $2 per bushel price for wheat was adopted except that it was made applicable to the 1919 crop and not to this year's.

NEED 24,000 DOCTORS FOR ARMY

System of Selection Country's 90,000 Physicians Will Be Mobilized, and Drawn.

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Fully 24,000 physicians or two out of every nine of military age in the country, will be needed in the new armies, the war department said today.

There are approximately 90,000 physicians of military age in the country. By a system of selection these will be mobilized and drawn from each community in proportion to the number available, so as not to leave any community without adequate protection.

CHESTER QUIET AFTER RIOTS

Chester, Pa., July 29.—With the exception of a brief period this morning, when a score of whites in automobiles invaded the negro section with the intention of "cleaning it up," Chester was quiet today. More than 100 shots were fired by the invading party, but so far as is known no one was injured. No arrests were made.

GERMANS BOMB RED CROSS HOSPITAL FROM AIR CRAFT

Paris, France, July 29.—Soon after midnight this morning firemen thronged the streets sounding an alarm on sirens and bugles, indicating another air raid. French planes had been humming in the air since sundown and many more quickly appeared and, as this warning was sounded an hour later than on the previous night, there were only a few people in the streets. Bugles sounded at 1:15 o'clock, announcing that the air raid was over. Four bombs were dropped on a Red Cross hospital, all reaching their mark. One doctor, a chemist and a male nurse were killed immediately and a second doctor died an hour later. Several doctors and nurses were wounded.

RELIGIOUS SERVICES AT CAMP.

Pittsburgh, July 29.—Religious services at the camp today were conducted by Rev. J. H. Drexel for the Catholics, Dr. Endicott Peabody for the Episcopalians and by the Rev. Herbert B. Shipman, chaplain of the New York Field artillery and former chaplain at West Point. A concert was given today, the entertainers including, Madame Louise Homer and David Bispham.

TALK WITH BALFOUR MIGHT LEAD TO PEACE

ERZBERGER DECLARES HE ONLY NEED HAVE FEW HOURS

London, England, July 29.—According to a Reuter dispatch from Zurich, Matthias Erzberger, one of the leaders of the clerical center in the German Reichstag, who has just arrived there, declared to the Zurich Nachrichten:

"If I could talk with Mr. Balfour, the British foreign secretary, of Lloyd George, the British prime minister, we could in a few hours come to a conclusion that would enable peace negotiations to commence."

SAYS ALLIES DESIRE CONQUEST

Michaelis, German Chancellor, Replies to Lloyd George; France Used Russia Until United States Should Declare War; Peace Without Conquest.

Berlin, Germany, July 29, via Copenhagen, Denmark.—Dr. George Michaelis, the German Imperial chancellor, on Saturday summoned a large number of newspaper men to whom he declared:

"The speech of David Lloyd George, the British premier, at Queen's hall, London, and the recent debate in the British house of commons again have proved with indisputable clearness that Great Britain does not desire peace by agreement and understanding but only a conclusion of the war which means the enslavement of Germany."

"Proof of this may be seen in the fact that Sir Edward Carson, member of the British war cabinet, recently declared in Dublin that negotiations in Germany could begin only after the retirement of German troops beyond the Rhine. In response to a question put by Commander King, a Bonar Law, modified this declaration by fixing the standpoint of the British government as being that if Germany wanted peace she first of all must declare herself willing to evacuate the occupied territories."

"We possess clear proof that the enemy gives assent to a declaration going even further than that I have just made by Sir Edward Carson. You all know that detailed information regarding the French plans of conquest approved by Great Britain and Russia has been circulated for weeks past in the neutral press and that it has not been denied up to the present."

"It would be of the greatest importance to enlightenment of world for it to be known that written proofs of our enemies' greed for conquest have since fallen into our hands. I refer to reports of the secret conference in the French chamber of deputies."

"I ask if it is true that the French ambassador at Petrograd in response to a request sent by him to Paris received instructions to sign a treaty prepared in advance by M. Dumogile (ex-premier and foreign minister)."

"Is it true or not that the French president at the instance of General Berthelot, head of the French military mission to Rumania, formally entrusted him with a mandate and that M. Briand afterward sanctioned this step?"

"This treaty assured to France her frontiers but amended on lines of previous wars the conquest of 1870, to include besides Alsace Lorraine, Serbien, and vast territorial modifications on the left bank of the Rhine."

"As desired by France when M. Tereschenko (the Russian foreign minister) took office the Russian government protested against the French aims of conquest which also included that of Serbia and declared that new Russia would no longer be willing to take part in the struggle if it learned of these French war aims."

"Wasn't it the principal object of Albert Thomas, French deputy, on his journey to Russia to overcome the remorse of M. Tereschenko? The French government will not be able to deny all this and it will be obliged to confess although that it may do so only tacitly, that M. Briand was the object of a stormy attack during the secret session; that Premier Ribot was obliged to produce the secret treaty in response to the command of M. Renouard, leader of the majority socialists, in the French chamber and also that M. Briand declared that revolutionary Russia was obliged to carry out what Imperial Russia had promised and it did not matter to France what was said by lower Russia."

"It is characteristic that Deputy Moutet, according to his own statement, replied in Russia to the question whether Alsace Lorraine was the only obstacle to peace by saying that he could not answer the question in that form and Russia should take into consideration that the Russian revolution had been purchased with French blood."

Then the chancellor states that the Russian people were against a policy that France knew would only end in disaster for Russia, but ward off Germany's army until the United States could enter the war.

"Regardless of this manifest proof of the revision of the Russian people against a policy of aggrandizement Premier Ribot refused in the secret session to undertake any revision in the French war aims and announced the fact that Italy had also received guarantees of great territorial aggrandizement."

"In order to divest their ambitions on the left bank of the Rhine of a character of greed and conquest he resorted to the lawyer's trick by necessity of creating a buffer state but the opposition speakers cried out 'it is disgraceful.' I would like also to mention that Premier Ribot, after a pacifist speech by Deputy Augagneur, replied that the Russian generals declared that the Russian armies never were in better condition than then."

"Here appears in perfect clearness the desire to let the Russian people go on shedding their blood in the advance of the French ambitions."

"The enemy endeavors to force upon my inaugural speech the interpretation that I only consented to the majority resolution with an ill concealed reservation of Germany's desire to conquest. I am obliged to deny the imputation as to an object to which there can be no doubt. Besides the resolution implies—which is quite clear—that the enemy must also renounce any ideas of conquest."

CALL STRIKE OF IRON MINERS

Men Demand $6 for Six Hours Underground or $1 for Eight Hours Above.
Bessemer, Mich., July 29.—A general strike of all miners on the Gogebic iron range was called today as a result of a vote taken at a mass meeting this afternoon. The strike is to begin at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning. Operators declared that most of the men were now satisfied with working conditions and would not strike.

Both sides were making preparations for the coming conflict tonight. Mine owners declare they could not meet the demand of the men which includes wages of $6 for six hours work a day for underground workmen and $4 for eight hours work on the surface.

DO NOT TAX POOR TOO HEAVILY—KITCHIN

WANTS MAN WHO CAN PAY TO PAY; NO FAVOR FOR PROFIT TAKER

Washington, D. C., July 29.—Tax burdens of the poor must not be materially increased, declared Majority Leader Kitchen, chairman of the house ways and means committee, today.

Ability to pay should be the only standard upon which the tax should be assessed, Mr. Kitchen will insist, and he believes the taxes already necessitated place a burden on the poor man as great as he can stand.

If the tax bill now pending will provide sufficient funds to meet expenses until some time early next year, as administration leaders say, Mr. Kitchen believes congress should not draft a new tax measure until next session.

"I intend that the man who can pay in money shall pay," said Mr. Kitchen. "I want the man who comes home with an empty sleeve to believe that congress who sent him away has not favored the profit taker who remained at home."

SiAM PRESENTS DECLARATION.
Vienna, Austria, July 29, via Copenhagen, Denmark.—The Siamese minister has presented to the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister SiAm's declaration of war against the dual monarchy.

SLAVS RETREAT OVER BORDER INTO RUSSIA; FRENCH MAKE GAINS

Russians Now 100 Miles From Scene of Recent Successes; Germans Advance Rapidly; Some Cosacks Force Teutons Back; Attacks By Crown Prince Repulsed; Great Air Battles.

Having retreated a distance of approximately 100 miles from where Kerensky, the iron man of Russia carried them in his personally conducted drive early in the present month, the Russian army is again on Russian soil on both sides of the Husiatyn and is still being followed up by the Teutons.

Likewise the armies to the north and south continue to fall back before the enemy, at a few points only standing to offer a semblance of resistance and then for only a short period of time. Whenever the faithful stand to resist attack they are forced to give ground by the greater number of the Germans, receiving no aid from their comrades.

So fast has been the retirement of the Russians and the advance of the enemy toward Bukovina, that already an arch like formation has been thrown westward toward Czernowitz, with the northern end resting on Wolkawice, 25 miles distant and the southern end to the east of Kuty on the western border of the crown land.

Enforce Strong Policy Soon. Evidently the preparations for the "blood and iron" policy of the government against the disaffected troops, shortly will be put into full force, for Minister of War Kerensky is on his way to the Russian headquarters there to confer with the military leaders to formulate plans to save the retreat and to compel the troops to withstand the force at the Carpathians. Down along this latter the Russians aided by the Rumanians, continue to force the Teutonic allies to cede ground, especially in the upper Outina valley.

Berlin, Germany, July 29, via London, England.—Russian troops retreating on the eastern Galician front, have retired beyond the Russian border at Husiatyn, the German general staff announced today. Husiatyn is 70 miles due east of Lancel.

Further south the Russians made a stand between the Dniester and Pruth rivers, but a powerful German attack broke their resistance, and the Russians are now being pursued along both banks of the Dniester. Kuty, in the Carpathians, has been captured by the Teutons.

Germans Repulsed. Paris, France, July 29.—Troops of the German crown prince at dawn yesterday made a violent attack on the French positions near Hurbetise farm, on the Aisne front. The French official statement issued this afternoon, says the German attack was repulsed and that the French in retaliation later instituted an offensive between Hurbetise farm and LaBovelle, gaining ground at all points on this sector and particularly in the region of Monumt.

Again the French troops fighting in the Aisne region of France have turned in vicious counter attacks against the German crown prince's army, put down an offensive it had started between Hurbetise and LaBovelle, and made good gains against it all along the line. Several attacks by the Germans in the Verdun sector, notably between the much fought forward in the region of the Avoucourt woods and Hill 304, also were repulsed by General Fetail's forces.

Artillery Duel Unabated.

Meanwhile, although the infantry operations are on a minor scale, consisting mainly of raids by the British, the great artillery duel which has been in progress in Flanders for more than a week, continues unabated. The visitation of German shells on Neuport is tremendous and British guns are replying almost shot for shot against the German line. To the south around the Vimy ridge and around Arrmentiers the duel continues of great proportions.

Simultaneously in the air the fighting machines of Great Britain and Germany are carrying out maneuvers of proportions never before seen, with both sides sustaining losses. As an indication of the intensity of the aerial combat 30 German airplanes were accounted for in the latest fighting, in addition to two observation balloons. The British war office admits that 17 of their ships had been shot down.

The German war office asserts however, that 35 British planes were shot down.

On Friday and Saturday night German airmen attempted to bomb Paris. In the first attack three suburban sections were reached and bombs dropped which caused the injury of several persons. The raid of Saturday night was futile. One German aviator dropped four bombs on a Red Cross hospital, near the fighting front, killing two doctors, a chemist and a male nurse, and injuring a few other persons.

BRITISH CAPTURE GERMAN STEAMER

TAKE HER IN NORTH SEA; DUTCH FISHING BOATS SUNK

London, England, July 29.—A British submarine, while patrolling the north sea on Friday overhauled and captured after a short chase, the German steamship Batavia II, according to an official statement issued tonight.

The Batavia II, was 1,300 tons gross.

Amsterdam, Holland, July 29.—A German submarine yesterday sank five Dutch fishing vessels, eight miles from the Dutch coast.

Scheveningen, Netherlands, July 29.—Fishermen arriving here assert that the Dutch fishing boats sunk yesterday off the Dutch coast by a German submarine, were within the so-called safety zone when destroyed.

SIXTY MEN ESCAPE FROM FOREST FIRE

EIGHT KNOWN TO BE DEAD, NUMBER MISSING IN CANADA

Nelson, British Columbia, July 29.—Fifty men are reported today to have been trapped in a disastrous forest fire which swept over the Elk Lumber company's plant at Spruce Creek, 12 miles east of here, yesterday. Last reports said that four bodies had been recovered, and that the fire was still burning fiercely last night. No estimate could be made of the timber loss.

Ferne, British Columbia, July 29.—Eight men are known to have perished and a number are missing in a fire that swept the Spruce River valley, 15 miles northwest of here, yesterday afternoon. More than 60 men were trapped in the lumber camp of the Elk Lumber company. They escaped over the mountain with difficulty.

Millions of feet of logs, the logging railroad, and the camp are a total loss.

ENDEAVOR TO SETTLE SWITCHMEN'S STRIKE

OFFICIALS OF FOUR BROTHERHOODS OFFER THEIR SERVICES

Chicago, Ill., July 29.—Officials of four great railroad brotherhoods came to Chicago today to offer their aid in bringing to an end the like of 11 members of the brotherhood or railroad trainmen employed as switchmen in the Chicago yards. It was understood they will undertake tomorrow to place their services at the disposal of both the striking switchmen and the railroad.

They had an official meeting today, with James Murdock, vice president of the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen, who is conducting the strike.

Mr. Murdock said tonight that 98 percent of the organizations' 5,000 men are on strike. This figure was disputed by the railroads.

James B. Connors of Buffalo, president of the switchmen's union, whose men remained at work, said that the organization of which he was the head, would not bring in any men as strike breakers. The general manager of the roads said tonight that the roads are being operated at about 40 percent of normal.

G. W. Hanger of the federal board of mediation and conciliation, received a letter from Mr. Murdock today, saying the switchmen had voted to adhere to their original strike plan and would not accept the services of a mediation board.

A plan for the settlement of the switchmen's strike was submitted to the roads by representatives of the three big railroad brotherhoods not involved in the controversy tonight.

The railroad men tonight said some of the roads were operating to full 100 percent of normal.

AFTER COURT PLASTER SELLERS.

Plattsburg, July 29.—The police of Plattsburg are searching for two men who have been selling court plaster in the outskirts of the city. Samples of the plaster were obtained today and will be sent to the health department of the state for analysis. Peddlers told prospective customers that the proceeds from the sale of the court plaster would be used for French war relief work.

BASEBALL RESULTS

LEAGUE LEADERS' MARGIN CUT

Harder Going Away from Home — Western Teams Creep Slowly Up.

New York, July 29. — The leaders in the National and American leagues left their home grounds for the road the past week and as a result found the going harder and their leads cut down. Twenty points were clipped from New York's advantage in the National and Chicago lost 9.

In the National St. Louis and Cincinnati, on their home grounds to face the eastern invasion, continued their good work and both teams passed Philadelphia while gaining on New York. Of five games played St. Louis did not lose one, and Mathewson's men won four out of five. Both western teams went ahead of Philadelphia on Monday and kept ahead through the week, Philadelphia winning only one out of five games played.

New York's winning streak of the previous week was broken Monday by Pittsburgh. In two games against Pittsburgh and three against Chicago New York won only two. The Giants began another week today by defeating Chicago 6 to 5.

Chicago owed the maintenance of its lead in the American to two victories over Boston early in the week. Against New York in six games the last of the week the White Sox could do no better than break even. Boston, after losing two games to Chicago, met St. Louis at home in five games and won every game of the series. The Red Sox are now only two games behind Chicago.

Cleveland showed no improvement, while Detroit continued its good work and New York improved over the previous week, with the result that on Saturday Cleveland and Detroit were tied for first place, with New York only two games behind. The Indians found the going hard in Washington, where they won only two out of six. Detroit made its gains at the expense of Philadelphia, while New York won one from Detroit and three from Chicago and lost three to the leaders.

BEAR PRESSURE RULES MARKET

Brokers Only Traders; Public Interest at Low Ebb; Adverse Developments.

New York, July 29. — Professional traders had the field to themselves in this week's negligible dealings. Prices again responded to bear pressure prompted by adverse developments at home and across the water, together with the utter lack of public inquiry for stocks. There were indications in the covering movement of the closing day of a vulnerable short interest which may be routed at the first favorable opportunity.

War prices and taxes again engaged the attention of foremost financial and industrial interest. This situation, emphasized by the presentation of the treasury department's five billion dollar budget and the maintaining cost of the war. Bankers viewed with misgivings the steady outflow of gold, large amounts being withdrawn for shipment to Japan, Spain and South America. Almost a month has elapsed since any gold has been imported but exchange rates on London and Paris remain virtually undisturbed.

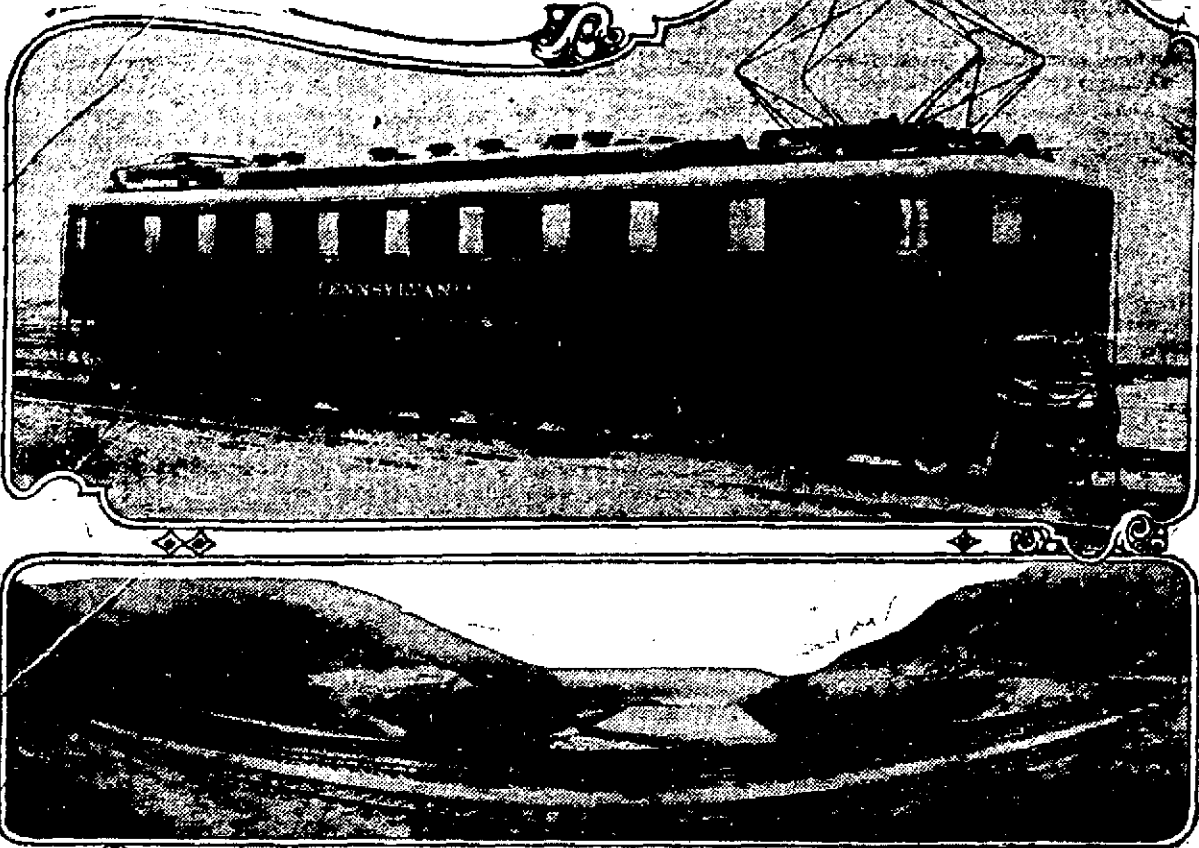

Railroad earnings for July are showing up very favorable and crop prospects except in isolated spots are increasingly bright.

Forecast for the U. S. steel earnings for the second quarter, to be published Tuesday, ranged from $15,000,000 to $25,000,000 over those of the preceding period.

General trade is reported to be satisfactory but authorities lay more than ordinary stress upon the undertone of conservatism due to uncertain government regulations.

The normal price combined with flavor is the secret of the popularity of Osego coffee. You get results of which you can be proud. Ask those who have tried it. Ask your grocer.

STRONGEST LOCOMOTIVE IS AMERICAN BUILT

FAMOUS HORSESHOE CURVE

Office more has American genius demonstrated its supremacy in the railroad field, this time in the production of the most powerful locomotive in the world; not a freak built for spectacular purposes, but the first of a standard type of giants of the rails constructed for a definite purpose. It is capable of developing 7,000 horse power, and was designed and built by the Pennsylvania Railroad Company and the Westinghouse Electric and Manufacturing Company.

This monster, capable of exerting as much power as a string of trolley cars over half a mile long, draws its current from a wire no bigger than that used by a trolley car, or about the size of a lead pencil. This is made possible by the use of the high voltage alternating current system.

The important field for this engine will be for hauling the tremendously heavy freight traffic of the Pennsylvania Railroad over the Allegheny Mountains from Altoona to Johnstown, Penn., including the famous Horseshoe Curve, a distance of approximately forty miles. The freight traffic over this division runs as high as 300,000 tons a day. In capacity this locomotive exceeds by more than 50 per cent. the power of the large electric locomotives in transcontinental service, popularly called the largest locomotives in the world.

The locomotive has been sent to Philadelphia, where it is being placed in initial service on the electrified portion of the Pennsylvania main line extending west from Philadelphia to Paoli. It is built in one unit. There are two trucks, each having six driving wheels six feet in diameter. On each truck are mounted two powerful electric motors taking current from the trolley wire and supplying mechanical power through a gear wheel to the drivers. The total weight is 260 tons, length 76 feet. Although this weight is compact, the engine is said to be much easier on the track and roadbed than the steam locomotive because the weight is cushioned and the running gear is perfectly balanced for all speeds.

The control has been applied to such perfection that power can be exerted gradually so as to enable the engine to start a train without jerk and acquire the speed of twenty miles per hour with a heavy train in about two minutes. This speed is fixed as desirable for the grades and curves which will be encountered when crossing the mountains.

An interesting feature is the fact that the engine will handle these enormous trainloads, owing to the design of the motors, at constant speed, whether operating up or down grades. When going down grade the motors automatically become generators and return power to the line, and at the same time obviate the use of the airbrakes, which are simply held for emergency use and for bringing the train to full stop.

"OVER THERE"

The Thrill and the Hell of the Trenches, Described by an American Boy.

Sergeant Alexander McClintock of Lexington, Ky., and the Canadian Army Has a Gripping Tale That Every American Will Read, For He Tells the Facts—Unadorned. Wounded, a Distinguished Conduct Medal Man, He Was Invalided Home, but Is Going "Out There" Again to Fight For Uncle Sam and His Allies. An Inspiring, Interesting, Personal Narrative, Full of the Spirit and Atmosphere of the Trenches in France.

No. 2. The Bomb Raid

By Sergeant Alexander McClintock, D. C. M., 87th Overseas Batt., Canadian Gren. Guards.

Copyright, 1917, by the Bell Syndicate, Inc.

Sergeant McClintock is an American boy of Lexington, Ky., who has seen service in France, was decorated for bravery, wounded, invalided home and now is returning to accept a commission. This is the second article in the series. In the first article he described his training up to the point where he reached the front line trenches.

WHEN we took our position in the front line trenches in Belgium we relied on the Twenty-sixth Canadian battalion. Scouts from that organization came back to the villages of Dinkelsbuehl and Reuningsbehl to tell us how glad they were to see us and to show us the way in. As we proceeded overland, before reaching the communication trenches at the front, these scouts paid us the hospitable attention due strangers—that is, one of them, leading a platoon would say:

"Next 200 yards in machine gun range. Keep quiet, don't run and be ready to drop quick if you are warned." There was one scout to each platoon, and we followed him single file, most of the time along roads or well worn paths, but sometimes through thickets and ragged fields. Every now and then the scout would yell at us to drop, and down we'd go on our stomachs, while away off in the distance we could hear the "put-put" of machine guns, the first sound of hostile firing that had ever reached our ears. "It's all right," said the scout. "They haven't seen us or got track of us. They're just firing on suspicion." Nevertheless, when our various platoons had all got into the front reserve trenches, at about two hours after midnight, we learned that the first blood of our battalion had been spilled. Two men had been wounded, though neither fatally. Our own stretcher bearers took our wounded back to the field hospital at Dinkelsbuehl. The men of the Twenty-sixth battalion spent the rest of the night instructing us and then left us to hold the position. We were as nervous as a lot of cats, and it seemed to me that the Germans must certainly know that they could come over and walk right through us, but outside of a few casualties from sniping, such as the one that befell the Fourteenth platoon man, which I have told about, nothing very alarming happened the first day and night, and by that time we had got steady on our job. We held the position for twenty-six days, which is the longest period that any Canadian or British organization has ever remained in a front line trench.

In none of the stories I've read have I ever seen trench fighting as it was carried on in Belgium adequately described. You see, you can't get much of an idea about a thing like that making a quick tour of the trenches under official direction and escort as the newspaper and magazine writers do. I couldn't undertake to tell anything worth while about the big issues of the war, but I can describe how soldiers have to learn to fight in the trenches, and I think a good many of our young fellows have that to learn now. "Over there" they don't talk of peace or even of tomorrow. They sit back and take it.

We always held the fire trench as lightly as possible, because it is a demonstrated fact that the front ditch cannot be successfully defended in a determined attack. The thing we did and the thing to do is to be ready to jump on to the enemy as soon as he has got into your front trench and is fighting on ground that you know and he doesn't and knock so many kinds of tar out of him that he'll have to pull his load for a spot that isn't so warm. That system worked first rate with us. During the day we had only a very few men in the fire trench. If an attack is coming in daylight there's always plenty of time to get ready for it. At night we kept prepared for trouble all the time. We had a night sentry on each firing step and a man sitting at his feet to watch him to see he wasn't secretly sniped. Then we had a sentry in each "bay" of the trench to take messages. Orders didn't permit the man on the firing step or the man watching him to leave post on any excuse whatever during their two hour "spell" of duty. Hanging on a string, at the elbow of each sentry on the fire step was a siren whistle or an empty shell case and a bit of iron with which to hammer on it. This, whichever it might be, was for the purpose of spreading the alarm in case of a gas attack. Also we had sentries in "listening posts" at various points from twenty to fifty yards out in "No Man's Land." These men blackened their faces before they went "over the top" and then lay in shell holes or natural hollows. There was always two of them, a bayonet man and a bomber. From the listening post a wire ran back to the fire trench to be used in signaling. In the trench a man sat with this wire wrapped around his hand. One pull meant "All O. K.," two pulls, "I'm coming in," three pulls, "Enemy in sight" and four pulls, "Sound gas alarm." The fire step in a trench is a shelf on which soldiers stand to look out and shoot between the sand bags on top. In addition to these men, we had patrols and scouts out in "No Man's Land" the greater part of the night, with orders to gain any information possible which might be of value to battalion, brigade, division or general headquarters. They reported on the condition of the Germans' barbed wire, the location of machine guns and other little things like that which might be of interest to some commanding officer twenty miles back. Also they were ordered to make every effort to capture any of the enemy's scouts or patrols, so that we could get information from them. One of the interesting moments in this work came when a star shell caught you out in an open spot. If you moved you were gone. I've seen men stand on one foot for the thirty seconds during which a star shell will burn. Then when scouts or patrols met in "No Man's Land" they always had to fight it out with bayonets. One single shot would be the signal for artillery fire and would mean the almost instant annihilation of the men on both sides of the light. Under the necessities of this war many of our men have been killed by our own shell fire.

The Daylight Hour.

At a little before daylight came "stand-to," when everybody got buttoned up and ready for business because at that hour most attacks begin, and also that was the regular time for a dose of "morning and evening hate."

THE NEWS IN HOBART.

Five Contributions Received by Red Cross — Local News Notes.

Hobart, July 29.—The Hobart Red Cross received yesterday from S. W. Andrews of New York, who has a summer home at South Kortright, a Red Cross dividend check for $100. Mr. Andrews' interest in the local branch and his generous gift is greatly appreciated here, as are also gifts yesterday of $5 from Mr. and Mrs. George A. Buckle of Oneonta, $4 from J. Lawrence and $2 from Miss Chandler. The money will be expended for materials to make into supplies. The following committee has been named to keep in touch with enlisted boys from this vicinity and provide them with little comforts. Henry T. Conkling, Mrs. H. E. Cunningham, Miss Dora Silliman, A. W. Kellerman and W. E. King. Plans for the Red Cross song recital, which J. R. Simmons will give on the evening of August 7, are progressing well. Mrs. M. O. Landon of Delhi, the accomplished soprano singer, and Miss Helen Hubbard of Stamford, a popular reader, will assist him. The Hobart orchestra will play. Tickets will go on sale Wednesday at J. B. Rich's store, all seats being reserved at 35 cents; children's tickets 25 cents. The campaign for members is going on with good success, about 25 being secured recently.

Will Hold Picnic Lunch.

The Home Missionary society of the Methodist church will hold an open air meeting and picnic in the church park Monday afternoon, July 30, at 2:30 o'clock. Members and friends of the society are asked to attend. After the regular meeting the time will be spent in doing Red Cross work. At supper time a picnic lunch will be served, to which the men are invited. If the day should be rainy the picnic will be held indoors.

Personal Notes.

HELPFUL HINTS ON HOME CANNING

Simple Equipment For Preserving Fruits and Vegetables.

COLD PACK METHOD IS EASY

Long Used With Success by Thousands of Boys and Girls of Canning Clubs. Washbottle Useful in the Process. Time Table For Scalding, Blanching and Sterilizing the Foods.

[From office of information, United States department of agriculture.]

CAN SURPLUS FOOD, BUT USE JARS AND CANS WISELY.

Don't have an empty preserving jar in your home next fall. There may be some difficulty in securing cans and preserving jars.

Reserve regular tight sealing containers for vegetables, concentrated soups, meats and fish.

Concentrate products so that each jar or can will hold as much food and as little water as possible.

Put up jams, jellies and preserves in glasses sealed with cork or paper and paraffin. Pack fruit juices in ordinary bottles.

Don't can anything that can be kept just as well dried or in other forms. Dry navy and mature lima beans for winter use.

Produce in your garden lots of cabbage, potatoes and root crops that can be kept for the winter without canning.

How to Can by the One Period Cold Pack Method.

Don't let valuable surplus fruits and vegetables go to waste. Adults and children in a very few hours with little other home equipment than a wash boiler and cans and jars can preserve much valuable perishable food for next winter's use. Succulent vegetables and fruits are important to health the year round. See that your table is supplied.

The simple one period cold pack method described is that taught by the United States department of agriculture for the boys and girls of the canning clubs in the northern and western states. With this method thousands of boys and girls each season put up vast quantities of fruits and vegetables. With this method practically every vegetable and fruit grown in this section can be canned.

The wash boiler method described below is entirely effective. Those who desire may purchase home size water seal, steam pressure or pressure cooker canning outfits, which save time and fuel.

Preliminary Preparations For Canning.

Provide a false bottom of wooden lattice work, cross pieces of wood or coarse wire netting for your clean wash boiler or other large, deep vessel to be used for sterilizing.

Fill the vessel with clean water so that the boiling water will cover the tops of the jars or cans. Begin heating the water so that it will be boiling violently by the time the containers are packed.

See that all cans or jars are in good condition and absolutely clean. Scald them thoroughly. Use new rubber rings and seal them just before putting them on the jars.

Preparing Fruits and Vegetables. Start with clean hands, clean utensils and clean, sound, fresh products. Throw out all vegetables and fruits which are withered or unsound. Wash out all grit and dirt. If possible use only fruits and vegetables picked the same day, and never can peas and corn picked more than five hours.

Prepare fruits and large sized vegetables for blanching. Remove all spots from apples.

Prepare beans and greens as for cook-

From this point on speed is highly important. The blanched vegetables and fruits, which are slightly warm, must not be allowed to remain out of the jars a moment longer than is necessary.

proper size and pack directly into the clean, scalded cans or jars.

Pack as solid as possible, being careful not to bruise or mash soft products.

In the case of fruit fill the containers at once with boiling hot sirup. In the case of vegetables fill the containers with boiling hot water to which a little salt has been added.

Place scalded rubber rings on the glass jars and screw down the tops.

Seal tin cans completely. Watch them for leaks. As the preliminary treatment has taken care of expansion, it is not necessary to exhaust the cans.

and with the same glasses see distant objects clearly?

If you cannot, then you need KRYPTOK (pronounced Crip-tok) Glasses—the invisible bifocals which combine near and far vision in one crystal-clear lens.

KRYPTOK Glasses enable you to adjust your vision from printed page to distant view, instantly. You see everything as clearly and distinctly as with eyesight of youth.

KRYPTOK GLASSES THE INVISIBLE BIFOCALS

End the trouble and annoyance of removing your reading glasses—or awkwardly peering over them — every time you look at objects more than a few feet away.

They free you from the even greater inconvenience of fussing with two pairs of glasses.

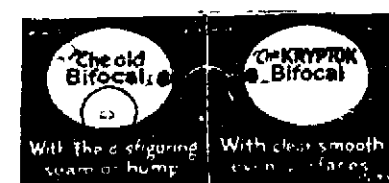

They are making the old-style bifocals, with the disfiguring seam or hump, a thing of the past.

KRYPTOK Glasses are entirely free from that disfiguring seam or hump. Their surfaces are clear, smooth and even.

When you are wearing KRYPTOKS, no one can tell that they are double vision glasses. Yet the upper part gives the necessary correction for far vision and the lower part for near vision.

Conditions in Russia sufficiently prove what long by many has been suspected, that the people as a whole are not fit as yet to be trusted with the responsibilities of government. Under these circumstances it is a fortunate thing that a man of blood and iron like Kerensky is at the head of affairs in the nation. There is no way in which order can be established save by just such stern repressive measures as he is inaugurating.

It will be of interest to suffragists that women are fighting women on the eastern battle front. Two hundred Russian women demanded the right to fight when the coward male soldiers would not and were sent to the battle front. Equally of interest is the report that women were also found fighting in the German trenches and that several of these fighters were captured. If this is true, it indicates that the Tontons are nearer the end of their resources in the matter of fighting men than was believed.

There is force in the insistent appeal of the agricultural experts that planting be continued in the numberless town and city gardens. There is no reason why beans or even peas planted now, if of the early varieties should not yield a green crop; and turnips and early cabbage, late planted, will yield vegetables for winter use. Get busy and make the home garden get busy also, doing its part.

The absence of rain for two days led everybody to think that after all the ancient St. Swilth legend was out of date, and that there were not to be forty days of rain after all. Yesterday, however, brought the rain again, and the saint, if not of respected memory, has at least won once more a fearful if not fond regard. Even the most confirmed Aquarian of the early church would have been satisfied that there is water enough this year.

It is now reported that Japan, which has much longer than the United States been at least passively at war, has determined to throw the weight of her military forces into the scale. Troops are said to have been training in Manchuria for several months and that already they are on their way to throw themselves into the battle front with the troops of Kerensky. If this is correct, as all will hope that it is, the condition on the eastern line will assume added seriousness for the Kaiser. Also it will show that the present is not merely a battle of Caucasians, but one in which all races engage for the salvation of all the world.

It is too much to hope that when congress convenes this morning it will be ready to do something more than to argue, resolve, introduce and amend. The little men of the senate, who by the way seem just now to have the upper hand in legislation, should get something done this week. Their attitude of persistent delay begins to make Americans wonder if after all the senate is not a useless wheel in the machinery of legislation.

The latest acquisition to the active merchant marine of the United States is the steamship Vaterland, which is the largest passenger ship in the world. She has been taken over by the government for transport service, and fifteen other big German ships are soon to join her in this duty. In this way at least Germany is helping to restore the tonnage which her submarines have destroyed.

One result of the New York State Military census was the location of 3,000 British subjects in the state who are subject to military duty. Their names have all been sent to the British Recruiting mission, and the men will be given a hitherto neglected opportunity to do their bit in the war.

COMMENTS OF THE PRESS

Don't Be a Slacker.

Right now the man who allows fear to paralyze the hand he writes checks with is just as dangerous to his country as the deliberate crank who throws a bomb.

The business slacker here at home is our one real enemy—far more of an enemy than any foreign power, because the foreigner cannot get at us. If you cannot thrust a bayonet, you can at least drive your business harder than you have ever driven it before, and thus help create the imperative prosperity with which alone this war can be won.

It betrays weak-mindedness to think of diving headlong into a period of panic, penance, abject fear and hysterical economy.

The man who sneaks down and buys a marriage license life preserver is not the worst breed of slacker. Conscience will take care of him.

But for the business slacker there is no law but his own conscience.

No matter what comes—
Don't be a BUSINESS SLACKER.—(Exchange.)

MORE BAKERS GO TO CAMP

Seventeen Recruits Gained During Week Return With Captain Millard; Company Now 103 Strong With One Officer; May Go South Soon; Names of Recruits.

Seventeen young men who had enlisted in the First Field Bakery company, New York National Guard, left Oneonta last night under the command of Captain Jesse E. Millard, of this city, for camp at Peekskill. They were given a send off by a crowd of 500 people.

The boys had been accepted during the week in a campaign to bring the company to Oneonta, and 20 obtained at Gloversville, the bakers now have a roll of 103 enlisted men and one officer. Today five other men anxious to join the outfit, will leave Davenport by auto to endeavor to enlist at the camp.

Captain Millard's company has been in camp since July 17. They expect to remain there until instructions are issued ordering the New York National Guard regiments to the training camp at Spartanburg, N. C., where they will join the state troops there.

All the men of the company, according to the report brought back by Private Segraves who was in charge of recruiting Saturday, are enjoying the camp life. He reports that their food is good, and that the life is a most healthful one, even if the fellows are sunburned. Their one great desire is that they may soon see service in France.

The men who left last night are Edwin Alger, Oneonta, and George W. Thomas, Oneonta, both enlisted Saturday; Claude Smalting, West Laurens, and Ernest Calahan, Davenport, enlisted Sunday; and the following who enlisted during the week:

Sanford A. Dusbrow Jr., William Lynch, James Whalen, George Gregory, Paul J. Ronan, Edmund J. Whaley, Peter R. Rovno, Millard J. Osterhout and Harold Wright, all of Oneonta; William McDonough, Carbondale, Pa.; Eugene A. Williamson, Wilkes-Barre, Pa.; Percy E. Smalling, Maryland, Martin Muncie, Pittsburgh, Pa.

Four men were rejected on Saturday.

SITUATION STRONGLY STATED.

By Roxbury Times in Advocating Nomination of Judge Kellogg.

In the Republican primary to be held in September no voter in the town of Roxbury, or anywhere in this part of Delaware county, should cast a ballot for any candidate for supreme court justice except for Hon. A. L. Kellogg of Oneonta. He is at present giving excellent satisfaction as county judge of Otsego county, has proven his ability as a fair and upright judge, and by his good work on the bench of the county court has earned promotion to the higher court. Aside from all other reasons, this part of the judicial district is entitled to have a supreme court justice located where it will not be so difficult for parties to be heard. If any of Judge Kellogg's opponents are nominated instead of Judge Kellogg, parties having a motion to be argued, or any other business before the supreme court, except for the trial of cases, will be compelled to go either to Norwich or Binghamton. What this will mean in additional loss of time and expense to parties interested can be easily understood. Considering this, together with Judge Kellogg's qualifications by reason of his experience and ability, it will be seen that the statement at the beginning of this item is none too strong. Every Republican in this section of the judicial district ought to work and vote for Judge Kellogg's nomination and election. There should not be a single exception.

BAINBRIDGE HOTEL SOLD.

Offered at Auction on Saturday and Brings Only $1,950.

The Central hotel at Bainbridge, occupying valuable realty on one of the principal corners in the business section, was sold at auction on Saturday at 10 o'clock and was purchased by Charles W. Allen, a hardware merchant of the village at $1,950, only $200 above the mortgage upon the property. The furnishings and personal property in the hotel were first offered singly but the prices offered were so ruinously low that the sale of the personal effects was called off and they were later sold at private sale to Mr. Allen. The sale was only advertised for two or three days and the number of bidders for the property was very small. Mr. Allen being the only bona fide bidder above the face of the mortgage.

While Mr. Allen makes no announcement of his plans it is surmised that he eventually will occupy the hotel with his hardware business. For the present the hotel will continue to be operated by Fred Choate, formerly of Sidney, who has been conducting the hotel since May 1. The hotel was formerly considered one of the best hotel properties in the county of Chenango, being formerly and for years conducted by Dora Wilsey, who was well known in Oneonta and along the D. & H. The town has been no-litense for several years. There is one other sizable hotel in the village. The low price is a surprise to many.

Recruiting Here Good.

Recruiting at the local United States army recruiting station, 176 Main street, showed a gain during the past week of three men accepted over the preceding week, 15 more than the week before that and eight more than the week of July 2 to 7. Forty-two candidates for various branches of the service were accepted during July.

NEW AUTOMOBILE LAWS.

Trailer Legislation and Anti-Glare Headlight Laws Effective Aug. 1.

Three brand new automobile laws go into effect on August 1, when the registration of all trailers will be called for by Secretary of State Hugo, the anti-glare headlight law and the licensing of operators in Greater New York commanding the attention of motorists. A one-half rate will prevail in the registration of trailers for the rest of this year. The full year fee runs from $5 to $30, depending on weight and carrying capacity. Trailers are used in considerable numbers in all the larger cities and in many of the smaller communities, particularly where contract work is under way. Registration plates of a special design must be attached to each end of the trailer.

The following are the full year registration fees for trailers:
For each trailer with a combined weight of truck and carrying capacity of two tons or less, $5; two tons and not more than five tons, $10; more than five tons and not more than seven tons, $15; more than seven tons and not more than ten tons, $20; more than ten tons and not more than 14 tons, $30.

While the registration of trailers is of chief interest to the business world, the working out of the anti-glare law from now on will be one in which practically every one of New York state's 350,000 motorists will be interested. Headlights must conform with the law from now on and judging from letters that have already reached Mr. Hugo, there is little question that not only the police authorities but motorists as well will see that violators are summarily dealt with in order that the present danger of night driving may be largely eliminated in the near future.

THE MEN OF THE NAVY.

Subject of Address at First Baptist Church by Chaplain Stevenson.

Chaplain George E. T. Stevenson of the United States submarine chaser Alcedo, who is now on shore duty, pending the early departure of his ship for foreign waters, delivered an instructive and inspiring address at the First Baptist church yesterday morning. Mr. Stevenson, who was formerly pastor of the Cortland Baptist church, has been for more than ten years in the navy and his address yesterday, which began with a talk on the men of the navy, told in an interesting way of missions in all parts of the globe, as seen by him in the tip of the Atlantic fleet around the world. His earlier remarks had to do with the personnel of the fleet and were in large part a tribute to the character and the efficiency of the men on shipboard.

Mr. Stevenson, who is accompanied on his trip to Oneonta by his wife, has been in this work for the past six months, giving in addition to addresses in churches, schools and clubs, screen pictures of life in the navy, with explanatory comment. During this time he has visited the New England states, Ohio, West Virginia and Pennsylvania, doing a work which has won for him the title of 'The Platform Man of the Navy.' On Thursday he was in Norwich, and Saturday in Cooperstown with the picture films, which earlier in the week were also given at the Happy Hour in Oneonta.

Yesterday afternoon he was again in Cooperstown and gave a talk at a meeting in the village hall.

During his sojourn in Oneonta Chaplain Stevenson had opportunity to visit his nieces, the Misses Eleanor and Alice Pevely of Troy, who are students of the summer school at the Normal.

Ministerial Salaries Increased.

Superintendent Denning of the Newburg district has been making an effort to increase the salaries of the pastors in his district and has succeeded to a considerable extent. About twenty churches have responded favorably, and we note that in Delaware county the following will pay the increase. Cooks Falls, $100; Downsville, $200; Fishs Eddy, $50; Rockland, $50; Trout Creek, $50.—(Daily man)

"WHERE'S THE FIRE?"

Workmen Learn They Had Sent in False Alarm.

A dozen men intent upon their work of laying gas pipe for the lighting company in Academy street in front of the high school Saturday afternoon were suddenly surprised to see the Oneonta fire department dash up and stop beside them.

"Where's the fire," asked the firemen.

"Yes, where's the fire?" replied the workmen.

Then one of the firemen found the cause of all the trouble. In order to thread the pipe, the workmen had hammered a vice to the fire alarm telegraph pole, and the constant jarring as they turned their tools shook the sensitive mechanism in the box. With the signal, "Fire's out," the workmen began removing the vice to place it somewhere else so that they might continue their labor peacefully.

The Irish Convention.

America would like to hear good news from Dublin. If the convention can dispel misunderstanding and kill that stupidity which, displayed by more than one side, has cursed the Irish problem, a great deal will be accomplished.—(New York Sun.)

Boys Back from Training Camp.

The five Oneonta boys who represented the Oneonta High school at the State Boys' Military Training camp at Peekskill as the first ones under the new school military training law, returned Saturday night enthusiastic over their experience. Ralph W. Ackert, who wrote several accounts of the life at camp, which appeared in The Star, said last night that he believes the new order of things will be of great benefit to the boys of the local high school, and that the boys will find much pleasure in it. The boys returned as far as Albany in a special
New York Central train, disembarking there for the Delaware and Hudson.

They are Russell Stapleton, William Fay, Chester Miller, Francis Haner
and Ralph W. Ackert.

BOARD CALL FIRST 136

EXEMPTION OFFICERS FOR FIRST OTSEGO DISTRICT AT WORK.

Examinations Commence on Thursday,
Aug. 2, at 9 A. M., and Continue Aug. 3 and 4 — List of Those Summoned — Office over Citizens' National Bank.

Chairman G. E. Baird of the exemption board of the first Otsego district has received the official draft list and notices were sent out on Saturday summoning 136, first drawn, from which list it is hoped to secure the quota for the district of 68. One-third of the number have been summoned to appear at the office of the board on Thursday, Aug. 2, commencing at 9
a. m., one third for Friday and one-third for Saturday. They will be examined in groups of five. Should a sufficient number be granted exemption, then the board will call the succeeding numbers in their order until the requisite number are secured.

Members of the board have a duty to perform and there is to be no favoritism, and it is useless to send personal appeals. If there are good and sufficient reasons which are recognized at Washington, they can be presented to the board at the proper time. The Laurens wife who phoned to the chairman of the board pleading that her husband had been exempted was given a characteristic reply: "Oh let him go and get another." It is imperative that only those grounds for exemption that are accepted by the authorities be followed by all the boards.

The list of those who have been summoned and the day when the three sections are to appear are as follows:

Thursday, August 2.
258 George J. Clute, Oneonta.

THE DELAWARE COUNTY CALL.

First District Calls Go Out Wednesday
—Second District Probably Tuesday.

Delhi, July 29.—The official list for the conscription for the new federal army reached the exemption board here late Saturday. Notices will be prepared and forwarded by mail on Wednesday next summoning the first 158 on the list for a physical examination, 62 to report on Monday, August 6, an equal number on Tuesday, August 7, and Wednesday, August 8. The office of the board will be in the court house. The quota for this district is 94 and twice the number required have been summoned.

The call for the second district,
which has its headquarters in Walton, will probably go out on Tuesday and will summon 192 men. The quota for the district is 96. The office in that board is located in the Seelye building.

ONEONTA HELPS THE BLIND.

Over One Hundred Dollars Realized at Sale Held Saturday.

The New York State Commission for the Blind held a sale, under the auspices of the Woman's club of Oneonta, on the lawn of the Wilber house, at the corner of Ford avenue and Main street, Saturday. Several tables, covered with the articles for sale, were spread on the lawn in the morning and by noon were ready for the sale.
The wares consisted of brooms, towels, woven rugs, woven silk bags, bureau scarfs, wash clothes, and many other articles too numerous to mention. The sale was in charge of Miss Hun, a representative of the commission, assisted by several members of the club, and was well patronized, the pleasant day drawing many people. At 10 a. m. the tables were placed, and from that time until nearly 9 p. m.,
the work was inspected and purchases made.

This sale was one of many being held throughout the state. The entire proceeds go to the blind of the state, except the cost of the material, which is purchased at wholesale. This enables the blind workers to secure much more for their work than if they made the articles for factories. Many were the comments that were heard concerning the beauty or excellent handiwork of this or that article. This was the first time that many citizens of Oneonta had seen the work of these unseeing craftsmen and admiration was freely expressed.

The total receipts were $113.37, which was very gratifying to the ladies who had given their time and energy to the furtherance of the cause. They wish to thank all those who contributed in any way to its success and assure them that the money will go to these people who, though deprived of their sight, have proven that great obstacles can be overcome to such an extent as their handiwork indicated.

PLANT NEARING COMPLETION.

Machinery and Conveyors Being Placed in Position at West End.

The big coal storage plant which the D. & H. company is erecting in close proximity to the lower round house of the company is nearing completion with indications that before many weeks elapse the company may, if it chooses, commence the storage of coal there. The work is in the hands of a contracting company, and it has cleared off two or three acres of land and the preliminary work is well completed. The company is now erecting the big steel conveyors and the power machinery is being installed. With it in operation the company will no doubt keep a large supply of coal stored here for emergency use. The work is at present giving employment to a large number of hands.

Carr Clothing Company, Inc.

The Carr Clothing company, Inc., has been formed and has taken over the business long conducted by Carr & Bull. The incorporators of the new concern are A. W. Carr, Fred B. Carr, Alfred V. Carr, V. H. C. Carr and Marian L. Carr. All of the incorporators are members of the immediate family of A. W. Carr, with the exception of Fred B. Carr, who is a brother.
The business will be continued at the same location and upon the same strict business principles.

The Fund Is Growing.

Over 100 persons have contributed amounts ranging from 25 cents to $10 each for the fund that is being raised in Cooperstown to be added to the "Comfort Fund" of Company G. The total thus far subscribed in Cooperstown has reached nearly $125. The committee hopes to be able to send in at least $200.—[Glimmerglass.]

Mr. Parsons is bookkeeper in the offices of the Casein Manufacturing company and his bride is a popular and highly respected young lady of that village. Both have many friends whose hearty congratulations will be extended.

A Double Surprise.

Surprise visits sometimes raise havoc in families. Here's one that didn't, though it didn't work out just as planned. Mrs. Fred Arundel of Delhi planned to go to New York last week and make her husband an unannounced visit. About the time that this thought prompted her, Mr. Arundel decided he would go to Delhi over the week-end and surprise his wife. The result was that both were surprised and both disappointed.—[Exchange.]

Engagement Announced.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Gomph of Utica have announced the engagement of their daughter, Marguerite, to Dr. Levan DeWilton Bissett, second son of Dr. and Mrs. Charles Gibson Bissett of Sidney. Dr. Bissett is a member of the Hospital corps of the Service first regiment at present stationed at Walton. Miss Gomph was vice-president of the Unadilla High school for the past year and most successful.—[Times.]

DEATHS.

Mrs. Rosaltha Beard Terrell.

The death of Mrs. Rosaltha Beard Terrell occurred at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Frank Turk, 29 Center street, Saturday at 10 a. m. The deceased had been in poor health since suffering a stroke of paralysis three years ago. She had, however, been able to be about up to Wednesday last, when she suffered another stroke which caused her death.

Mrs. Terrell was born in the township of Jefferson, Schoharie county, 70 years ago. She was a daughter of the late John L. and Polly Witte Beard. She was united in marriage to Seneca J. Terrell of Summit, June 18, 1868. Following their marriage they resided in various places in Schoharie county, finally moving to Warnerville and residing there up to the time of Mr. Terrell's death in 1907. Shortly after her husband's death she gave up housekeeping and resided among her children. She had been at the home of Mrs. Turk in this city for three years. During her residence here she had gained many friends and had endeared herself to all who had made her acquaintance. She, however, was better known in Schoharie county, where her long residence had gained her a host of friends. She was a member of the Christian church and was a kind neighbor and loving mother. Her death will be a source of sorrow to all who knew her.

Surviving are five daughters: Mrs. Jessie Levey Strait, Norwich; Mrs. Alice Hayes, Richmondville; Mrs. Agnes Turk, Oneonta; Harriet Terrell Judd, Schenectady; and Mrs. Edna Gallagher, Fulton; also two brothers, David W. Beard, Elmira, and Dr. F. P. Beard, Cobleskill; and one sister, Mrs. Della Burnett, Cobleskill. Her children and sister were with her during her last hours. The funeral will be held Tuesday. Prayer will be offered at her late home, 29 Center street, at 10 o'clock, by Rev. B. M. Johns of the Methodist church. Following the remains will be taken to Richmondville, where services will be held in the Lutheran church at 12 o'clock, conducted by Rev. D. I. Putnam. Interment will be made in the family plot in Rural cemetery, Richmondville.

Leaving to Join the Navy.

Arthur L. Polley, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Polley of Maple street, who recently volunteered and was accepted for naval service, has been summoned to report for duty at New York city Wednesday morning at 9 o'clock and he leaves the city on Tuesday at 11 o'clock for New York. He expects to be sent to Newport at once for a period of training. Arthur is a young man of the right sort and will prove valuable and trustworthy in any duty assigned.

Death at Fox Hospital.

Miss Pearl Swaine of Gilbertsville, who came to the Fox Memorial hospital two weeks and more ago for a critical operation, died at the hospital Sunday. She was a young woman of about 20 years and leaves a mother and sister residing at Gilbertsville. The body was removed to the McCrum undertaking parlors and will probably be sent to Gilbertsville today.

Celebrates Eightieth Birthday.

Mrs. Arthur H. Brownell is spending a few days in Delhi with her father, William F. Lynch, who yesterday celebrated his eightieth birthday. Another daughter, Mrs. Victor B. Prosser of Hudson was also with him to assist in making pleasant his natal day. Mr. Lynch is spending the summer at the home of Mrs. Elizabeth Hume.

Memorial to Joseph T. Gilbert.

Gilbertsville proposes to erect a suitable memorial in the village to perpetuate the memory of the late Joseph T. Gilbert. Mr. Gilbert devoted the last twenty years of his life to the improvement of the village, and it is fitting that they now show appreciation of his great generosity by erecting a memorial suitably inscribed.

FLOWERS

For the pretty June bride the correct arrangement of the bridal bouquet requires more skill than the arrangement of flowers on any other occasion.

We have made a study of this kind of work for many years and we know what would be most fitting in style and individuality. We guarantee satisfaction. Quality Flowers—without overcharge.

Our Great Annual Mill End Sale

Commences Tuesday Morning, July 31st and Will Continue For Eleven Days

Prices on all lines of Dry Goods are advancing so rapidly that it makes it very unprofitable to hold Clearance Sales on staple lines. However, in consideration of the very large volume of business you have favored us with in our great Mill End Sales of the past, we have decided, even under present conditions, to give our customers the benefit of an Eleven-Day Mill End Sale—when seasonable goods, from our regular stocks and broken lots of dependable merchandise in every department will be sold at prices far below today's market value.

By Captain GEORGE L. KILMER.

THE assassination on June 28, 1914, of the Archduke Francis Ferdinand, heir to the throne, quickly resulted in the outbreak of a world war. When Austria-Hungary pressed her demands upon Serbia for reparation Russia championed the little Slav nation. Germany declared that her Austro-Hungarian ally must have a "free hand" in dealing with Serbia, and the storm broke.

The first two years of the war, from August, 1914, to August, 1916, were marked by the subjugation of nearly all of Belgium, part of northern France, all of Serbia and the greater part of Russian Poland by the German armies. Russia conquered and then lost a large slice of Austrian territory in Galicia.

Following the invasion of Belgium in August, 1914, Great Britain and France entered the war as the allies of Russia. The German march toward Paris, through Belgium and France, was effectively checked at the river Marne early in September, 1914, and in the weeks following the opposing lines in France and Belgium were established practically where they remained for the next two years.

Italy entered the war in May, 1915, and attacked Austria by land, east and northeast of Venice. The first year of the war saw the fall of Warsaw and the extension of the German front to the Drina river, midway between Warsaw and Petrograd. In 1916, the second year of the war, the Germans attacked with great force the French fortress of Verdun, but were unable to reduce it. This event was followed by a concerted drive by the French and British in northern France against the German lines along the Aisne and Somme rivers.

Throughout the first two years various local campaigns were inaugurated by the allies, notably for the capture of Constantinople (the Turks having joined the Teutonic powers late in 1914), with an expedition in Mesopotamia to support it. The move against the Turkish capital failed, and the forces were transferred to Greece to operate against the central powers in the Balkans, where the Bulgarians were fighting for Germany.

The greatest naval battle of the war, fought off Jutland in May, 1917, was a draw, and the large vessels have not taken decisive part in the progress of the war. In 1915 Germany started a system of drastic submarine warfare, primarily intended to blockade the ports of her foes. Belligerent and neutral ships were made to suffer in the southern front. But neither of these diversions checked German progress in Roumania. The northern column, coming down from Austria under Von Falkenhayn, moved southeast into Roumania and met a composite force of Bulgars, Turks and Germans which Von Mackensen was leading north-west, fifty miles west of the Roumanian capital, Bukharest. In vain Russia began a new drive in the Carpathians. The Roumanians, strong in numbers, but weak in resisting power, were overcome, and in the last week of 1916 the Teutons were in Bukharest.

America in the War.

Two events of sudden development in the third year of the war may have a deciding influence—namely, the entrance of the United States as an ally of the entente powers and the collapse of Russia's aggressiveness. During the early months of the year the submarine dispute between this country and Germany quieted down. A U boat brought the war into western Atlantic waters by sinking neutral ships off Nanuetucket shoals in October, but the German pledge to safeguard neutral lives was observed. On Dec. 12 Germany and her allies, Austria, Bulgaria and Turkey, proposed peace negotiations, naming the United States as one of the intermediaries. On the 18th President Wilson sent a note to all belligerents asking them to name their terms. Meanwhile the allies replied to Germany, declining a conference, and Germany replied to Wilson, evading the question of terms and putting off the discussion of permanent peace until the end of the war.

In January President Wilson revived interest in the subject of peace by outlining a plan for a peace league, making "peace without victory," "consent of the governed" and a "world Monroe doctrine" the fundamentals for a world peace. While the whole world was discussing this turn of affairs Germany informed neutrals on Jan. 31 that submarine warfare would be more ruthless than ever. Three days later the German ambassador was given his passports, and the president informed congress of the break and its causes. Ambassador Gerard received his passports at Berlin Feb. 5, and on the 10th Germany, through the Swiss government, proposed negotiation of the new dispute. This the United States declined unless the new submarine order was withdrawn.

After Von Bernstorff sailed and Gerard was out of Germany the state department disclosed a German plot to involve the United States with Japan and Mexico. War measures followed rapidly. Congress expired March 4 without endorsing the president's "armed neutrality" policy. A special session of the new congress was summoned to meet April 2, and meanwhile the president ordered armed guards placed on our merchant ships voyaging abroad.

On April 8 congress formally declared war. Then followed a conscription law to create armies, loans to the allies—one of $2,000,000,000 to the nation by the people—the dispatch of war vessels to Europe under command of Rear Admiral Sims; also of Major General Pershing, to prepare a base for the American contingent already represented on the firing line in France by a detachment bearing the Stars and Stripes, on May 25.

The Russian Setback.

During the efforts to secure a diplomatic peace Russia stood firm. The duma rejected Germany's proposals, and the imperial government endorsed Wilson's peace league note. Russian support of Roumania had never been strong and entirely dropped away in the winter. It seemed that Russia was powerless. A revolution in which the troops and their generals figured deposed the czar the middle of March, and there began a state of military indecision and inactivity while factions contended for political control at Petrograd.

Early in February the German retrograde began north of the Somme. Eppenne and Peronne, the goals of months of bloody struggles, yielded the middle of March to the allies led by Nivelle and Haig, and shortly the Germans turned and began to resist vigorously all along the front. "Special reasons" was Berlin's explanation of this great and masterly retreat. Further withdrawal was forced by British attacks on the Ypres salient and at Messines in May and June.

Western Entente Powers Pressed.

The entrance of the United States as an ally led to an announcement by British and French commissioners sent here for conference, among them Marshal Joffre, that the resources of England, France and Italy in men, money, food and munitions were at a low ebb, and Russia must be considered as virtually eliminated as an aggressive force. These frank disclosures caused surprise and deep anxiety on this side of the ocean, the more so because the ruthless U boat operations, which began in February, had been more destructive than expected by the allies, although their toll had fallen far short of Germany's estimate—1,000,000 tons per month. The destruction of freight ships varied from week to week during March, April and May, but the total was so great as to forebode disaster unless the evil was speedily suppressed.

The entente's money problem was quickly solved by affording heavy credits to pay for their supplies brought here. A commission, headed by Elihu Root, repaid to Russia to swing the weight of the United States on the side of the forces in authority who favor a continuance of the war on Germany. The response to calls for troops and immense war funds and the successful registry for the draft, followed by the safe arrival of a large expeditionary force in France, led to a reaction during June from the misgivings and uncertainties which had prevailed for weeks.

Notable among the closing events of the third year of war are the renewal of attacks upon the Austrian fronts by Italian and Russian armies. The Italian movement began early in June and had for its object the recovery of positions in the Trentino, which the Austrians had captured in their great spring drive of 1916. At the close of June the Italians suffered a severe check.

July opened with a strong Russian offensive on the line of the Dniester, aimed at Lemberg. This was a renewal in part of the great drive led by General Brusiloff one year before. Inspired by the presence on the field of the new Russian war minister, Kerensky, the army of General Korniloff, in front of Halicz, captured that position on the 10th, crossed the Dniester and marched toward Strij, taking Kalucz on the 13th and prisoners which raised the total captives in the campaign to about 38,000 men.

The long bruited cabinet upheaval in Germany took place on the 12th and resulted in the resignation of Chancellor Hollweg and the removal of Foreign Minister Zimmermann, who fostered the scheme to "embroider the United States with Mexico" and Japan. Hollweg's successor in office, Michaelis, has been ranked as a conservative on Germany's war policies. On the 19th the mobilization of the national guard, which will add 300,000 men to the federal armies, was begun.

STURGEONS AS THEY FEED.

Peculiar Way These Big Fish Attack and Absorb Their Prey.

The sturgeon feeds along muddy bottoms on small shellfish, water weeds and bottom fishes. According to the Zoological Society Bulletin, its method of feeding is peculiar. Underneath the snout and near the point of it are four barbels, or "feelers," about two and a half inches long and placed about three-quarters of an inch apart across the snout. It swims with the snout close to the bottom, which allows the barbels to trail along on the sand or mud.

Whenever the barbels touch the protruding siphons of the soft shelled clam or the razor clam the siphons of the clams contract and by doing so notify the sturgeon of their presence. It halts and with its telescope mouth pumps the sand or mud away from the clams and finally draws the clam from its resting place into its jaws and there crushes it. The larger portions of the shell it discards through the gill openings, but if the clams are small it discards very little of the shell, but swallows nearly all of it.

Another way the sturgeon has of feeding is to plow a furrow through the sand or mud with its long pointed snout, then to turn round and go back through the furrow and pick up whatever small mollusks and crustaceans it may have exposed. It also sucks up with its protruding mouth great quantities of sand and mud, sifts them through its gills and thereby finds many small organisms upon which it feeds.

A Bonehead.

There are many things dropped in the subway ticket chopper by absentminded riders besides the little piece of pasteboard which entitles them to a ride. An eccentric looking young man and his particularly eccentric looking wife hurried up to the door of a Broadway theater last night. The man reached into his pocket, handed the doorman some tickets and, assisting his wife before him, turned to receive the stubs. "These are subway tickets," said the doorman. At the rate of two pockets per second the young man searched himself. Then he clapped his hand on his forehead. "Good heavens, Annie," he gasped, "I put the seats in the subway!" And what Annie said about boneheads was only heard by herself.—New York Cor. Pittsburgh Dispatch.

Curious Beehives.

In the village of Hoefel Silesia, there are a number of beehives in the shape of life size figures cleverly carved in wood and painted in colors. The figures were carved more than a century ago by monks of the Naumburg monastery, who were at that time in possession of a large farm in the district. The beehives represent different characters, ranging from Moses to a military officer, a country girl and a night watchman with a spear.

Chance Visitors.

"Is there such a thing as a new thought?" "Maybe there is and maybe there isn't," replied the cynical man. "Some people entertain a thought so seldom that whenever one strikes them they get the idea that it's new."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

NERVOUSNESS AND BLUES

Symptoms of More Serious Sickness.

Washington Park, Ill.—"I am the mother of four children and have suffered with female trouble, backache, nervous spells and the blues. My children's loud talking and romping would make me so nervous I could just tear everything to pieces and I would ache all over and feel so sick that I would not want anyone to talk to me at times. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills restored me to health and I want to thank you for the good they have done me. I have had quite a bit of trouble and worry but it does not affect my youthful looks. My friends say 'Why do you look so young and well?' I owe it all to the Lydia E. Pinkham remedies."—Mrs. ROBT. STORIEL, Sage Avenue, Washington Park, Illinois.

If you have any symptom about which you would like to know write to the Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass., for helpful advice given free of charge.

Begin to Save Now.

How many people say to themselves, "Next year will find me with a nice little savings account," and then realize later on that it was like so many other good resolutions—never carried out. The time to begin is now. Nothing is ever gained by indecision. Begin by doing without some one thing which, possibly, may not come under the head of extravagance and still is not a necessity. It is not so much the amount you save at first that counts, but it paves the way for the systematic saving, which in the end makes the successful men and women of tomorrow.—S. W. Straus.

The Island of Hongkong.

Hongkong is an island about eleven miles long, with a width of from one to three miles, and consists almost entirely of a series of hills. There is a good road around a portion of the island on the sea front, but the grade up the mountains are too steep for practical automobile travel, and the streets generally are not wide enough and not strongly enough constructed to permit the use of heavy cars upon them.
